EXPECTED STUDENT OUTCOMES

Expected Student Outcomes (ESO) are what the school intentionally targets for all students to know, believe, understand, and/or be able to do in academic and non-academic areas after their tenure in the school. Evergreen Academy's ESOs, guided by Luke 2:52, are pivotal benchmarks that reflect our success in equipping students to positively impact generations through holistic growth in wisdom, stature, favor with God, and favor with people.

Academically Equipped – “Growing in Wisdom”

Proverbs 4:5 instructs us to get wisdom. As students seek wisdom from God, they grow to resemble Jesus. All wisdom they have comes from God, as He commands them to seek it. This pursuit equips students with valuable skills to gather, and apply knowledge in their daily lives, including critical thinking and decision-making to become Christian leaders of impact and influence—advancing the Kingdom of God in their generation.

AE1. Academic Excellence & Talent Stewardship

- Outcome: EA graduates demonstrate a commitment to academic excellence, showcasing their proficiency and dedication across diverse disciplines. They actively and responsibly manage their talents, drawing inspiration from the wisdom imparted in Proverbs 12:24. This commitment to excellence positions them as well-prepared and capable graduates for their calling in life.

AE2. Proficiency in Math, Science, & Technology

- Outcome: Rooted in Colossians 1:16 and 1 Corinthians 10:21, EA graduates skillfully navigate the domains of math, science, and technology, integrating a Biblical perspective. With a commitment to ethical digital citizenship, graduates demonstrate a responsible approach to technology use, positioning themselves as ethically aware professionals in today's digital landscape.

AE3. Social Sciences, Historical Understanding & Cultural Competence

- Outcome: EA graduates explore the richness of history and social sciences, recognizing the sovereignty of God in shaping events. They learn about diverse cultures, including church history, grasping how the past influences the present and future. Guided by Revelations 7:9, they develop language skills and cultural understanding, improving communication across diverse landscapes. This enhances their professional ability to engage in a globally connected world.

AE4. Advanced Critical Thinking, Research, and Problem-Solving Skills

- Outcome: In alignment with Proverbs 15:28, EA graduates cultivate advanced critical thinking, research prowess, and problem-solving skills. They adeptly analyze, interpret, and synthesize information, demonstrating the ability to present well-supported arguments with effectiveness and precision.

AE5. Communication Proficiency as a Cornerstone

- Outcome: EA graduates excel in the communication process, showcasing proficiency in reading, writing, speaking, and listening, with effective communication serving as a cornerstone of their educational journey, in alignment with the principles outlined in Colossians 4:6.

AE6. Stewardship of Diverse Gifts and Abilities

- Outcome: EA graduates actively steward their gifts and abilities by engaging in a spectrum of activities, encompassing the fine and practical arts, foreign languages, and technology. This exploration empowers students to discover and develop their unique talents as seen in Peter 4:10.

Physically Disciplined – “Growing in Stature”

1 Corinthians 6:19-20 tells us our bodies are God’s temple and should honor Him. As students learn about their bodies and God’s purpose, they’ll realize they’re designed to fulfill His call. To serve effectively, they need healthy bodies and will learn to live balanced and disciplined lives to become Christian leaders of impact and influence—advancing the Kingdom of God in their generation.

PD1. Holistic Well-Being & Physical Discipline

- Outcome: EA graduates, acknowledging the sanctity of their bodies as divine gifts, demonstrate a commitment to maintaining optimal well-being through consistent engagement in physical activity, informed nutritional choices, and the cultivation of healthy habits, in alignment with the principles outlined in 1 Corinthians 6:19-20. Furthermore, they develop self-discipline and control by actively participating in physical challenges and exercises, embodying the biblical teaching that self-control is a manifestation of the fruit of the Spirit, as articulated in Galatians 5:22-23.

PD2. Character Development and Christian Leadership

- Outcome: EA graduates exemplify character development by prioritizing sportsmanship, integrity, and perseverance as integral components. They showcase collaborative leadership through the promotion of teamwork, cooperation, and unity, aligning seamlessly with Christian values. In all aspects of life, they embody safe and virtuous behaviors in accordance with the principles outlined in Romans 5:3-4.

PD3. Goal Setting and Achievement

- Outcome: EA graduates, valuing holistic well-being, master the skill of establishing and actively pursuing physical fitness and health goals. This deliberate focus aligns seamlessly with the biblical principle underscored in Philippians 3:14, advocating for perseverance in both the physical and spiritual aspects of personal growth. By incorporating this principle into their health approach, graduates not only optimize their physical vitality but also adopt a mindset conducive to enduring spiritual development.

PD4. Continuous Lifestyle Integration for Holistic Health

- Outcome: EA graduates embrace the concept that physical fitness is an ongoing journey and a lifestyle commitment rather than a temporary pursuit. Graduates recognize that good health extends beyond mere physical activities, embodying the holistic principle articulated in 1 Timothy 4:8. Graduates understand and recognize that well-being extends beyond the physical body to include the mind and spirit.

Spiritually Mature – “Growing in Favor with God”

God favors us when we express sorrow for our sins. Romans 10:9 says believing in Jesus as Lord and His resurrection saves us. Students will learn that a relationship with Jesus is vital. They'll grow through prayer, Scripture, and listening to the Holy Spirit. Seeking God's favor helps their relationship, knowledge, and Christian values, so they can act ethically and share Jesus. This equips our students to become Christian leaders of impact and influence—advancing the Kingdom of God in their generation.

SM1. Personal Faith and Ethical Living

- Outcome: EA graduates affirm Jesus Christ as their personal Lord and Savior, cultivating a profound relationship with Him. They demonstrate excellence in comprehending and applying Biblical teachings, consistently making moral and ethical choices guided by the principles outlined in God's Word, as referenced in John 3:16 and Colossians 4:2-4.

SM2. Spiritual Engagement and Prayer Mastery

- Outcome: EA graduates exhibit devotion through a disciplined and passionate prayer life, actively engage in rigorous Bible study, participate actively in a Bible-believing church, and comprehend their significance in the life of a believer, guided by the principles found in Hebrews 10:25 and Acts 17:11.

SM3. Scripture Memorization for Guided Living

- Outcome: EA graduates showcase a high level of proficiency by committing key Bible verses and passages to memory, integrating them as guiding principles in their daily lives. This commitment reflects a profound alignment with the wisdom conveyed in Psalm 119:11, illustrating their dedication to grounding their actions and decisions in the foundational teachings of scripture. By embodying these principles, graduates establish a spiritual framework that informs their character, choices, and interactions, contributing to a life guided by Christian values and a deep understanding of their faith.

SM4. Evangelism, Missionary Emphasis, & Interfaith Dialogue

- Outcome: EA graduates skillfully use their unique talents to share the gospel genuinely, participating in local and global missions. This aligns with the instructions in Matthew 28:19-20 and Colossians 4:5-6, reflecting their commitment to spreading the faith. They also excel in conversing with people of various faiths, fostering understanding and meaningful connections in discussions about spirituality.

SM5. Apologetics & Discipleship Proficiency

- Outcome: EA graduates articulate and defend their Christian faith and are equipped with skills for effective discipleship, including mentoring and teaching, guided by 1 Peter 3:15 and Matthew 20:26-28. EA graduates guide younger believers, imparting knowledge, and exemplifying the principles of “making disciples of all nations” as seen in Matthew 28:18-20.

SM6. Christ-Like Conduct & Spiritual Gifts

- Outcome: EA graduates are committed to living by God's Word, embodying the fruits of the Spirit, and exhibiting Christ-like behavior (Galatians 5:22-25). Graduates recognize and develop their unique spiritual gifts to serve others and advance the cause of Christ.

Socially/Emotionally Prepared – “Growing in Favor with Man”

In Matthew 9:35-38, Jesus traveled, taught, preached, and healed. When He saw suffering people, He had compassion and told His disciples to pray for more workers. Jesus teaches us to help through service. At our school, students learn to be Christian leaders, loving and serving others, understanding their responsibilities and having an impact and influence on society—locally, domestically, and internationally, advancing the Kingdom of God in their generation.

SEP1. Identity in Christ and Christian Values

- Outcome: EA graduates demonstrate a sense of self-worth and identity in Christ, establishing a foundational framework rooted in Christian values encompassing empathy, compassion, love, respect, kindness, forgiveness, and humility. This development is guided by the principles found in Psalm 139:4, Philippians 2:3-4, and Colossians 3:12, reflecting a commitment to professional and personal growth within the context of their Christian identity.

SEP2. Biblical Relationships, Conflict Resolution, & Moral Discernment

- Outcome: EA graduates cultivate and sustain relationships rooted in Godly principles of love and respect. They acquire effective conflict resolution skills deeply rooted in Christian principles of reconciliation and the pursuit of peace. Additionally, graduates demonstrate the ability to apply biblical wisdom and discernment to navigate complex moral and ethical challenges. This is guided by a commitment to Ephesians 4:2-3, Matthew 5:9, and Proverbs 3:5-6, showcasing their dedication to professional and relational excellence within a Christian framework.

SEP3. Emotional and Spiritual Resilience

- Outcome: EA graduates demonstrate a commitment to understanding and effectively managing their emotions in alignment with biblical wisdom. They cultivate emotional and spiritual resilience through intentional practices such as faith, prayer, and reflection, contributing to their professional and personal growth. Relying on God's strength, they overcome challenges and setbacks while seeking guidance and solace in their relationship with Him as seen in Philippians 4:7-8

SEP4. Biblical Community Engagement and Servant Leadership

- Outcome: EA graduates embrace servant leadership, embodying selfless service, humility, and integrity. They recognize the significance of active involvement in their Christian community and contribute positively while sharing the gospel message with love and compassion. Additionally, students develop the ability to respect and relate appropriately to all people they encounter as seen in Matthew 5:16; 20:28.
